Silentwind Blades - New Revision

1. Communication

Dear Partners,

We would like to inform that starting from next March, we will be sending out a new version of our blades.

We want to emphasize that the design, manufacturing methods, and materials remain unchanged.

As you may know, our carbon blade production is carried out manually, maintaining exceptional quality standards.

Given the strong competition and with the aim of distinguishing ourselves more and more as a leading brand in this highly competitive market, we will enhance our brand image, including our simplified SilentWind logo, as you can see in the photographs.

We'd like to remind you that our packaging incorporates a coding system that, when scanned, allows the product to be registered both upon material entry and sale. We highly recommend that you make use of this functionality for better product tracking, if needed.

We are always open to improvement suggestions and look forward to continuing working with you to achieve mutual success.

Please be aware that in the coming weeks, you may naturally receive a mix of batches. This is considered perfectly normal as achieving a 100% clean breakpoint is not feasible due to individual blade sales and we already have batches of generators, tested, packed, and ready for dispatch, containing the previous version.

Best regards,

The Silentwind Team
